Where?
Burton College of Education
Farrar Hall 228

The Burton College of Education faculty invites you to attend the Stakeholder Feedback for Advanced Program Proposals Fall 2019 Meeting to be held on Friday, September 20, 2019 in Farrar Hall 228 on McNeese State University's Campus.

The session will include discussions about each of the advanced level education programs that BCoE is proposing to offer beginning in the 2020-2021 academic year. As we continue revitalizing current programs and creating new programs, we are requesting stakeholder input on expectations of completers, curriculum development, and areas of need. Those persons with knowledge and experience in the following areas are invited to attend: Academically Gifted Education, Curriculum and Instruction, Educational Technology Leadership, English as a Second Language, Special Education, and STEAM.

Please RSVP by September 17, 2019 at <https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/GQXDDX9>
If you are unable to attend and would like to give your feedback, we have included a space within the survey for that information as well.
