MOTION

Whereas, McNeese State University faculty have tremendous insight in many areas, and

Whereas, the vast majority of communication is occurring within silos centered at individual colleges, and

Whereas, there are many great ideas, concepts, and processes being restricted to small populations and falling between the silos, and

Whereas, the need and time has come to bring ideas and concepts together to benefit the faculty, students, university and community,

Now, therefore, be it moved by the McNeese State University Faculty Senate, that

1. McNeese State University faculty adopt a vision emphasizing holism among the colleges, and
2. An ad hoc committee be formed to investigate the best means of:
  - a. Improving communication between the colleges regarding projects, community outreach, and available services,
  - b. Improving communication between the faculty, student body, and the University's offices governing advertising and public relations,
  - c. Establishing a central location to allow for the posting and dissemination of upcoming programs, events, and
  - d. Tracking the efficacy relative to existing information schemes (e.g., banners, the university calendar, etc.).
