Long before the first day of class, a new crop of heroes descended onto the McNeese campus to begin their training to become Cowboys. They will face the perils of difficult subjects, all-nighters and the dreaded weeks of final exams, but this does not dissuade them, for they know that the adventure of a lifetime awaits . . .

It was the Peerleaders' 20 year anniversary this year, and McNeese's 26 Blue & Gold Peerleaders were on hand to provide tours, offer guidance and answer questions during 2018's freshman orientation.

For many of our first-time freshmen, this was their first introduction to the University community, and the Peerleaders were there to make sure they had everything they needed.

BLUE & GOLD PEERLEADERS

The first challenge our heroes faced was, of course, making new friends . . .

. . . plus trying out the secret Cowboy signal . . .

... not to mention discovering their teams...

... and showing off their special powers...

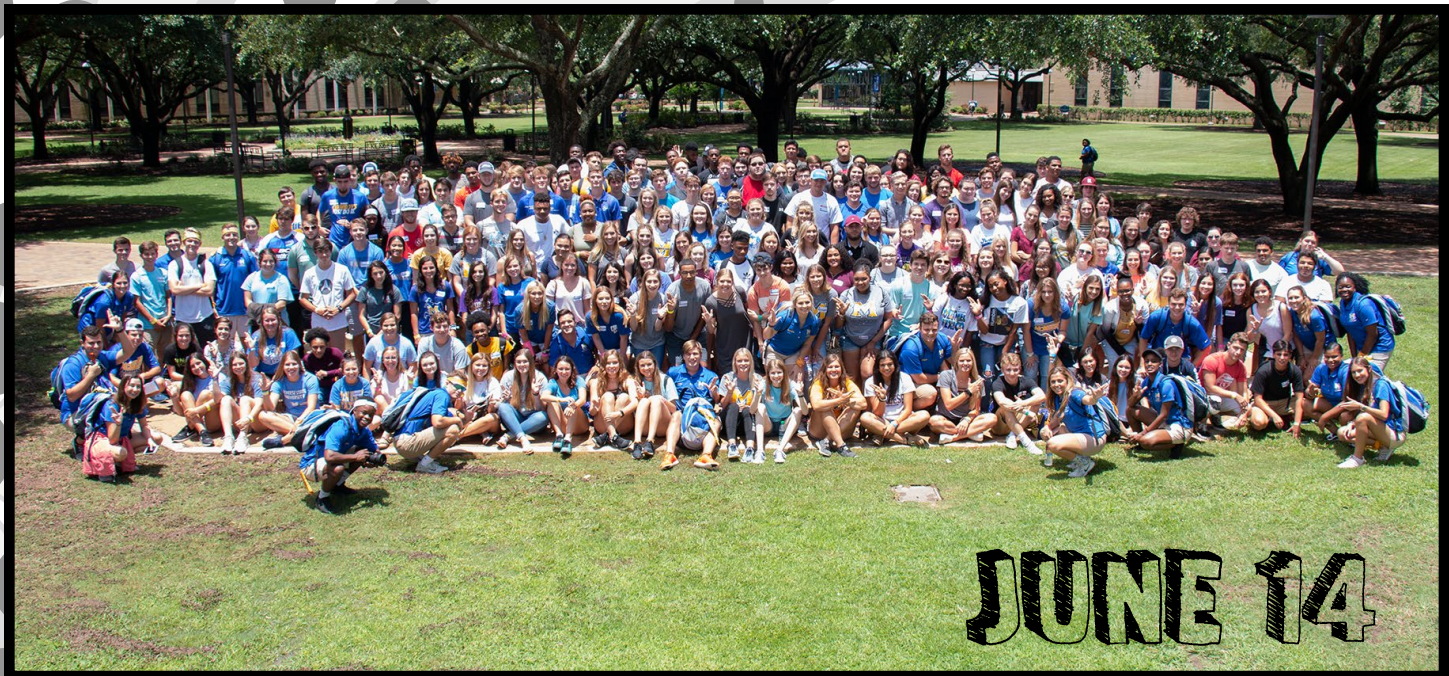

The second challenge was lining up!

COWBOY CAMP

2018 marked Cowboy Camp's 10-year anniversary in helping prepare students to face the scholastic foes, learn the necessary skills needed to triumph over the evils of procrastination and start their path to becoming the heroes they were born to be.

This year, Stan Pearson II presented his "S.A.L.S.A." leadership development, which introduced our heroes to a variety of leadership skills by getting them up and on their feet and dancing to salsa's energetic beat. Our heroes also got to know their future super allies through a special skit competition and a "Bleed Blue & Gold" athletics presentation.

BUT FIRST!

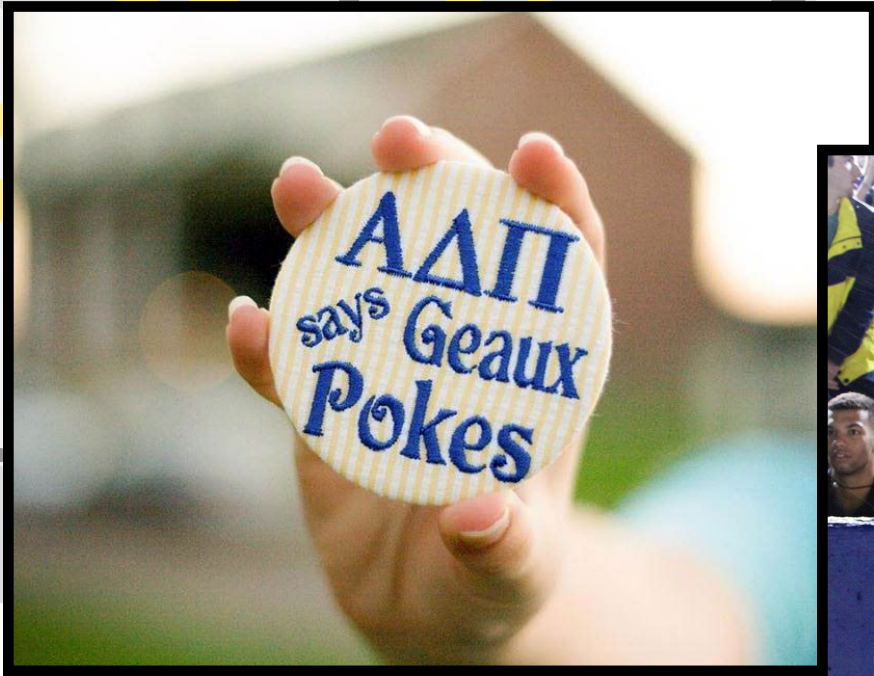

Before our heroes could get started on their university adventure they had to unpack! Move in day saw freshman descend on the dorms laughter, boxes and -- of course -- lots of paperwork!

MOVE IN DAY!

THE ADV

YEAH!

ADVENTURE BEGINS

INTRODUCING!

A NEW TRADITION!

This year, McNeese began a new tradition at Cowboy Camp. Led by the cheerleaders, our heroes gathered in the quad at to sing McNeese's alma mater "Joli Blonde" and "On McNeese." This special event was held at 7:39 p.m., or 19:39 military time, to commemorate McNeese's founding in 1939.

THE ZYDE- POKES!

This year, McNeese unveiled a new zydeco band in the performing arts program: the Zyde-Pokes!

Members of the band are accordionist Kaleb LeDay, guitarist Ryan Miller, bassist Dayton January, drummer Josh Hebert and Efron Simon on keys.

Dr. Lonny Benoit recruited the five musicians and says the band's aim is to help preserve the rich culture of zydeco music in Southwest Louisiana.

As long as we want to preserve our culture, we have to get younger people involved, and this is a great way to get a collection of younger people involved in the art form.

JOLI BLON!

SADDLE — UP! —

JOLI BLON

A CRAFTED TRADITION

The Official Beer of McNeese

This year, McNeese launched its own special beverage -- Joli Blon, the official McNeese beer!

Joli Blon is the official McNeese song. It has been played at McNeese football games since 1951 and it became the university's official song in 1970.

McNeese and partners Bayou Teche and Southwest Beverage introduced Joli Blon to McNeese fans attending the first home football game on Sept. 15. It was also served at the Alumni-Petrochem tailgate party and sold in the premium seating in the End Zone Room and the Blue and Gold Room in the SkyRanch.

Bayou Tech Brewery was established in 2009 by brothers Karlos, Byron and Dorsey Knott on the family farm in Arnaudville, and it produces more than 10 different handcrafted beers that are sold throughout Louisiana. Known for brewing beers that compliment and celebrate the cuisine and lifestyle in South Louisiana, the flagship beer, LA-31 Bière Pale, won a silver medal at the 2013 World Beer Championships.

Family owned and Lake Charles based for more than 60 years, Southwest Beverage Company has been a supporter of McNeese for more than two decades through McNeese Foundation academic scholarships, McNeese athletics, the Banners Arts and Cultural Series and Rouge et Blanc.

Initially offered only on tap, Southwest Beverage soon began distributing Joli Blon in restaurants and entertainment venues throughout Southwest Louisiana.

in Pakistan, whenever we meet someone, even a stranger, we always hug each other. The people in Washington, D.C., told us Americans don't hug – the most you can do is shake hands. They even gave us a tutorial on how to shake hands. But when I came to Louisiana, the first thing people did was hug me!

For the first time, McNeese was part of the U.S. Department of Education's Exchange Program in Pakistan. The university in Louisiana selected him for the program. Engineering majors Mahmood and Aleem came to the US tasked with learning more about the culture and Louisiana to share with their return.

Based on a lengthy interview and academic study, Mahmood and McNeese, though neither studied before they arrived. Both students by the McNeese and Southwestern found that, in many ways, the differences between the cultures as they learned in classes are very different compared to both enjoyed their time and

While studying, they also had to travel throughout the U.S. to get a better understanding of how culture differs from place to place, from Chicago to Disneyland. They participated in a very Louisiana

Both students say that they are home to fulfill their roles as students and what they've learned about the culture and McNeese to their home country.

CULTURAL AMBASSADORS

As cultural ambassadors, we get the chance to act as a bridge between the two countries and also show the beauty of Pakistani culture to Americans hosted two Pakistani students as part of State's Global Undergraduate Program. McNeese was the only one to host students through the program. Hira Mahmood and Muhammad Ali continued their studies in the U.S. and shared their cultures and values of the U.S. with their communities when they returned to Pakistan.

During the process and their paths of study, Hira and Aleem were assigned to live with a host family. Hira's host family was familiar with Louisiana and the students were quickly embraced into the host Louisiana community and there wasn't as great a difference as they were expecting. Though compared to Pakistan, they've had different experiences on campus.

Hira and Aleem had the chance to travel extensively throughout the U.S. to get a broad idea of how American life is in different places, visiting everywhere. They also had the chance to experience American traditions like Mardi Gras.

They are excited about returning to Pakistan as cultural ambassadors and spread the beauty of the U.S., Southwest Louisiana, and their own country.

Local and state officials were on hand for a ribbon cutting ceremony to officially open the H&HP Complex.

THE HEALTH AND HUMAN PERFORMANCE EDUCATION COMPLEX!

New and returning heroes found a new and expanded campus! 2018 marked the grand opening of the new Health and Human Performance Education Complex, the first on-campus arena in 47 years.

The $40 million complex is the new home to the McNeese men's and women's basketball and volleyball programs and the Department of Health and Human Performance. At 145,000 square feet, the new complex is within walking distance of the main campus and contains a sports area, classrooms and office space, with room for future expansion. The 4,200-seat arena replaces Burton Coliseum, which has been the home of McNeese basketball since 1986.

HOWDY ROWDY WELCOME BACK WEEK!

McNeese welcomed thousands of new and returning heroes back with Howdy Rowdy Welcome Week.

Student organizations, university offices, academic departments, local businesses, community service agencies and campus ministries all had representatives on campus during this week to introduce the students to what the campus and community have to offer.

This year, by popular demand, Howdy Rowdy Week was extended an extra three days, as our heroes mixed with the Greeks, enjoyed free food and music at the Welcome Back Pool Party, learned how to get involved on campus through Get Connected Day and much more.

"Jurassic Pokes" was the theme of the 2018 Homecoming set, and the McNeese was thrust back millions of years as everything dinosaur descended on campus!

HALF-NIGHT ALTITUDE TRAMPOLINE PARK

BOING!

Our heroes “jumped” into the week of events starting with a half-night at Altitude Trampoline Park on Oct. 21. Students leapt at the chance to enjoy hours of fun on the park’s wall-to-wall trampolines, trampoline basketball and dodge ball.

HTER AT AMPOLINE RK

ROWDY'S BARBERSHOP

Super makeovers were also a part of Homecoming week, as our heroes were invited to enjoy a free haircut on Rowdy at Rowdy's Barbershop, held in the La Jeunesse Room. Hairdressers from Infinite Designs of Lake Charles snipped and trimmed students' locks to help them get into the groove of the new year.

LASER TAG

Parra Ballroom was transformed into a light show and battleground on Oct. 22, when students had the opportunity to welcome Homecoming in with a blast. Teams ducked and dove behind and around inflatable obstacles in the near dark, competing against each other in this timed challenge to see which team could achieve the highest score, or, in free-for-all, which a sole individual could blast their way to the title of laser tag champion.

HI!

OZEBALL

McNeese's longstanding tradition of oozeball returned on Oct 24, when teams convened to compete for trophies and bragging rights on Frasch Hall's very muddy front lawn. Teams slipped and slid in the muck, diving to keep the oozeball aloft while onlookers watched and cheered for their favorite teams. The fabled "Jurassic Pokes" T-Rex also made a surprise appearance to cheer the competitors on. First place went to team Notorious B.I.G., second place to team Big Bang and third place to team Pike.

McNeese pride was on display as "Jurassic Pokes" floats paraded down Ryan Street on Oct. 25 to celebrate Homecoming. Members of the community and students organizations showed off their decorating skills with their "dino-mite" floats, competing to take home the champion title in one of three categories.

The Homecoming Pep Rally picked up immediately following the end of the Parade. Audiences enjoyed performances by the Pride of McNeese Marching Band, the McNeese Cheerleaders, the Cowboy Kickers and more live entertainment. The 2018 Homecoming King and Queen were also announced before the special Homecoming fireworks show, sponsored by the McNeese Alumni Association.

McNeese State University students Sydney Broussard, a nursing senior from Hackberry, and Gunnar Goodwin, an engineering senior from Lake Charles, were named McNeese's 2018 Homecoming Queen and King. The royal pair and court were presented during halftime ceremonies.

Sydney is a Blue and Gold Peerleader, a member of Phi Mu sorority and was a member of the 2017 Homecoming Court. Gunner is president of Kappa Sigma fraternity, a Student Alumni Ambassador and a Blue and Gold Peerleader.

PRE-VET HALLOWEEN PET CONTEST

OMG

No super hero is complete without a furry sidekick! Each year McNeese's Pre-Veterinary Society hosts a Halloween Pet Costume Contest. Students, faculty and staff descended on campus with their furry friends to compete in a variety of silly and spooky categories, including cutest and most original costumes. Each four-legged participant received a Halloween treat, while winners received ribbons and gift cards.

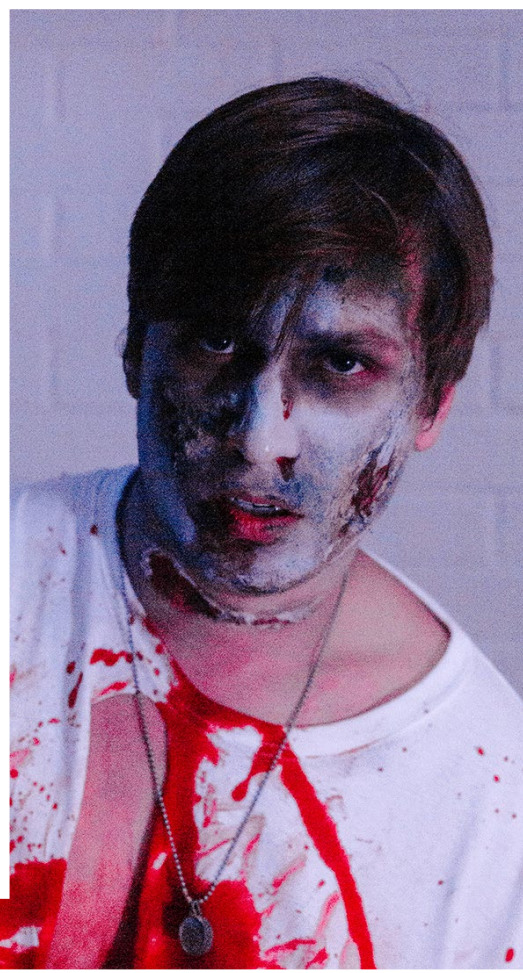

HAUNTED HOUSE

BOO!

On Halloween, the Parra ballroom was transformed into the "Parra-Normal" Haunted House. Our brave guys and ghouls ventured into the creepy maze full of moaning ghosts and gristly corpses to test their mettle and enjoy spine-chilling thrills, as well as for the chance to win free prizes.

MLK CELEBRATION FEATURING BRANDON BROWN

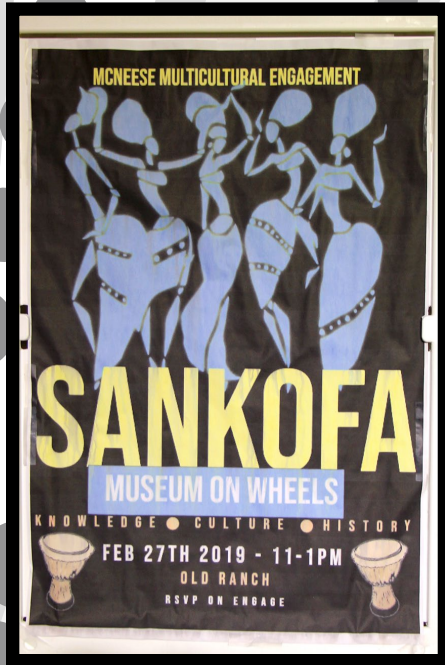

The McNeese Student Life Coalition held a special celebration in honor of Martin Luther King Jr. on what would have been his 90th birthday. This event featured speaker Brandon Brown, president of School Yard Rap and known by the stage name Griot B.

As an educator and musician, Brown uses rap music and lyrics to teach students about positive minority roles in a way that's more engaging than what they might read in a textbook.

Students not only learned about Martin Luther King Jr.'s accomplishments through Brown's lyrics and lecture, but also about African American contributions to art, science and mathematics.

BLACK MALE INITIATIVE & SANKOFA MUSEUM ON WHEELS

The Sankofa Museum on Wheels visited McNeese with an exhibit on African American history. With displays of artifacts and photos ranging from African tribes to Civil Rights leaders to mathematicians and inventors, the exhibit showed students the historical struggle of African Americans against oppression and highlighted the significant cultural, social and intellectual contributions they have made to the U.S. and the world.

The Black Male Initiative met to discuss the encouragement, support and inclusion of Black males in education, while also discussing the specific challenges that face this group. Focused on cultural and social awareness and understanding, the initiative is geared towards empowering students through the strengthening of community, brotherhood and leadership.

SPRING FLING!

Fun bubbled over on campus as students slipped into giant bubble suits and got to kicking with Bubble Soccer! Students dashed, dove, bounced and rolled with this McNeese Spring Fling tradition, while onlookers enjoyed complimentary bubble tea.

BUBBLE SOCCER & BUBBLE TEA

MULTICULTURAL WEEK & TALENT SHOW

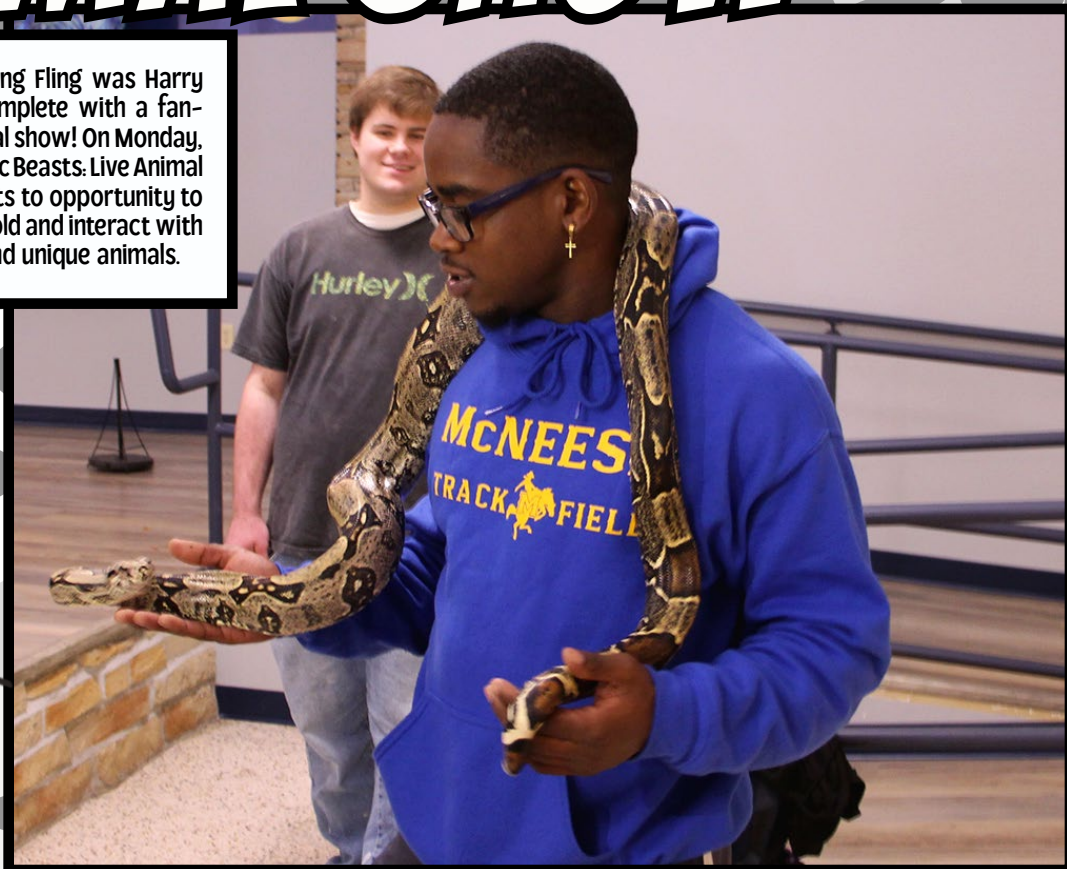

McNeese students showcased their singing, dancing and other amazing abilities with World Wide Talent Night. Part of Multicultural Week, this McNeese tradition is hosted by the Student Life Coalition and the McNeese Multicultural Programming Office.

FANTASTIC BEASTS LIVE ANIMAL SHOW

This year's Spring Fling was Harry Potter themed, complete with a fantastic beasts animal show! On Monday, April 8, the Fantastic Beasts: Live Animal Show gave students the opportunity to learn about, pet, hold and interact with a variety of odd and unique animals.

MAGIC SHOW

On Tuesday, April 9, the Harry Potter theme continued with a visit from special guest magician Rokas. One of the most talented magicians in Europe and the holder of two Guinness World Records, Rokas brought the power of his illusions to the McNeese campus with a special magic show in the Old Ranch. His performance featured unexpected tricks, astonishing illusions and plenty of sleight of hand to make for one unforgettable show.

Spring Fling capped off with the annual crawfish boil. Students enjoyed the spicy Louisiana staple along with a host of other fun activities!

POKEFEST CRAWFISH BOIL

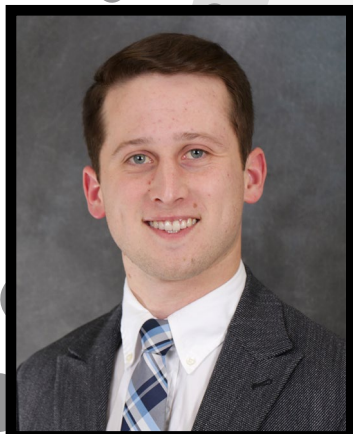

Sulphur seniors Lauren Breaux, a radiologic sciences major, and Austin Pottorff, a criminal justice major, were selected Miss and Mr. McNeese on the 2019 Spring Court.

GREEK

WEEK

Greek Week returned to the McNeese campus March 11-15 as 15 Greek sororities and fraternities representing more than 500 students held a week of special activities, sponsored by the Greek Unity Board. The week's events included Change Wars, a Banner Competition, Greek Trivia, Greek Olympics and the brand new Greek Sing.

GREEK OLYMPICS

COLLEGE HIGHLIGHTS

BURTON COLLEGE OF EDUCATION

McNeese Burton College of Education faculty, staff and students participated in a can food drive to help families of Oak Park Elementary students. Over 1,093 cans were collected and 20 boxes were made for families in need!

100 local high school juniors and seniors from 13 area high schools visited campus for the Geaux Teach event to learn how to “Unlock Education.” They had the chance to get a hands-on look at what it takes to be a teacher with activities that included creative contests, Escape Room activities and a Q&A session with the department’s faculty and students.

The creation of Assistant Professor of education Dr. Kathleen Williams, Geaux Teach promotes teaching as a career to high school juniors and seniors in the five-parish area, and was funded by a Pinnacle Excellence Award that recognizes outstanding faculty achievement and initiatives.

The Board of Regents celebrated Louisiana’s top teacher candidates with it’s inaugural event, Future Educator Honor Roll. Emily Whetsell and Keri Reeves were nominated from the Burton College of Education to receive this award. Congratulations Emily and Keri!

COLLEGE OF SCIENCE AND AG

I would like to go on to medical school and I think this internship is really going to help prepare me for that. I'm excited for this opportunity to work in a world class lab and really get hands-on experience with the research and development process.

Biological sciences major Tanner Marceaux was awarded a prestigious 10-week summer internship at the Uniformed Services University of the Health Sciences in Bethesda, Maryland. This is the 16th year students from McNeese have been awarded the research internship. The internship is competitive, as students are selected based on academic performance, as well as faculty interviews and recommendations.

For the internship, Tanner will be studying how sexually transmitted disease pathogens affect organisms. Focused on molecular biology and biochemistry, Tanner's work will involve a variety of tests and experiments, as well as investigating therapies that can go towards immediate treatment and vaccine development.

Sari Bosnyak became McNeese's first international intern. The Nottingham Trent University graduate student from the United Kingdom worked on her thesis with Dr. Edward Ferguson, professor of animal sciences and an internationally known equine researcher, before returning to Nottingham to finish her thesis.

When Bosnyak was researching topics for her graduate thesis, she discovered Ferguson's published research in the international Journal of Equine Veterinary Science on the use of aromatherapy to treat stressed horses and how this could benefit the equine industry.

AGRICULTURE

Natural resource conservation management majors learned how oil spills affect wildlife and received hands-on training on how to clean wildlife after a spill.

The Wildlife Center of Texas out of Houston presented the oiled wildlife workshop at the McNeese farm to over 30 participants, including federal and state fish and wildlife service officials and industry environmental personnel.

This year, McNeese began helping to promote the benefits of bees as pollinators with the introduction of a bee program at the McNeese farm.

Students enrolled in Animal Science 101 will now learn about bees, including their importance as pollinators and how this impacts the food system and the serious threats currently facing bee populations today.

Students will also learn about the process of commercial honey production and receiving hands-on experience in harvesting, extracting and bottling honey produced at the farm.

The goal is to not only educate McNeese students but also agriculture producers and the community about the benefits of bees as pollinators for food and agriculture crops, the value of wildflowers and plants that provide food for bees and the honey which is produced by the hives.

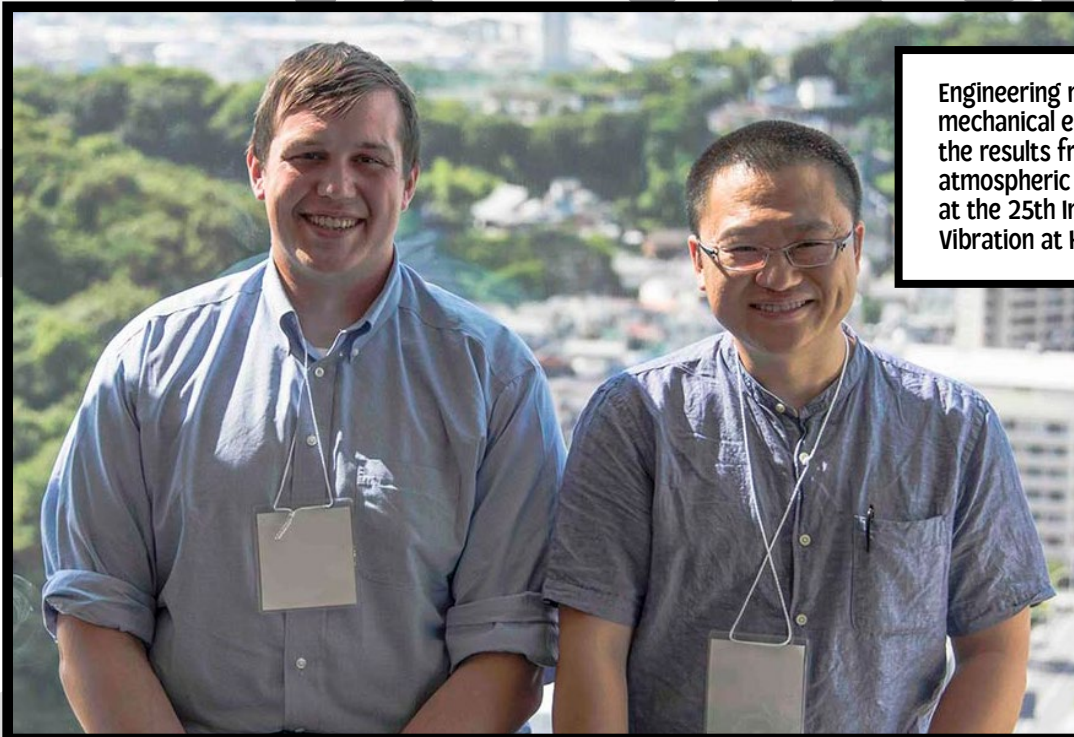

Computer science and computer engineering major, Michael Casteel, was awarded an all-expenses trip to IBM's Innovation Center in Cambridge, Mass., after being one of the top 10 highest scorers in IBM's online interactive code cracking challenge, The IBM Vault.

Going to IBM and listening to the presentations was really interesting, and having the opportunity to interact with their incredibly advanced setup taught me a lot. I also met a lot of great people. All in all, it was a once-in-a-lifetime experience!

Michael was among 75 top-ranking competitors – including other students, PhD candidates, hobbyists and IT professionals – invited to IBM's Cambridge site. Alongside complimentary travel and accommodations, he was given the opportunity to attend presentations and demonstrations on some of the latest research going on at IBM. IBM also hosted a day of computer-science activities for winners, including a steganography challenge, an Escape the Room puzzle and a pentesting simulation game.

COLLEGE OF ENGINEERING AND COMPUTER SCIENCE

Engineering major William Dever and Professor of mechanical engineering Dr. Zhuang Li presented the results from a research project focused on atmospheric temperature, pressure and humidity at the 25th International Congress of Sound and Vibration at Hiroshima, Japan.

Assistant Professor of biological science Dr. Amber Hale was selected for a third straight summer to sail aboard the exploration vessel, the Nautilus, operated by the non-profit Ocean Exploration Trust.

She was one of 21 educators from around the nation selected to survey Canadian seamounts – hotspots for corals, sponges and sea creatures off the coast of British Columbia.

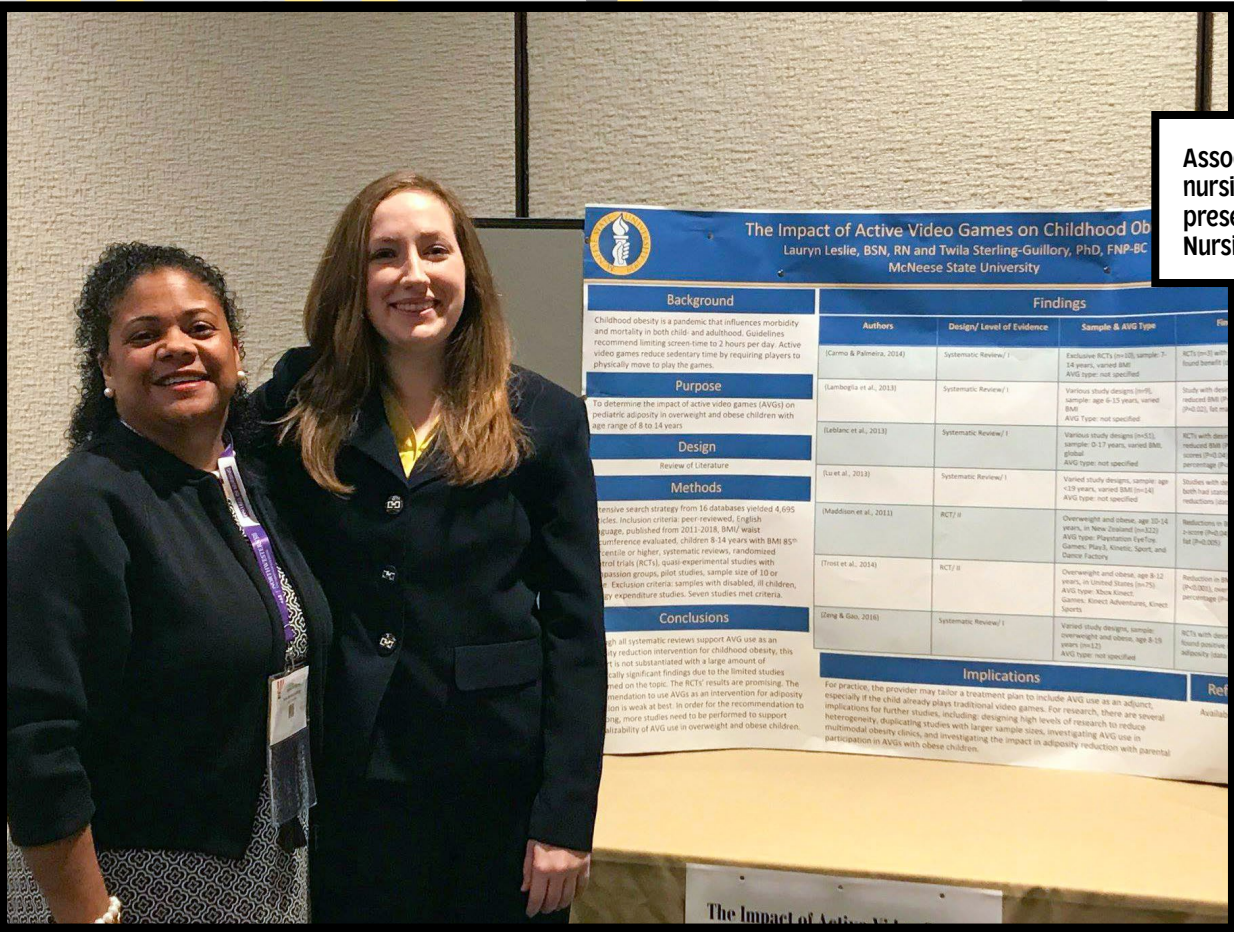

New students were treated to a special cookout by faculty and staff in order to welcome them to the college!

Engineering major William Foltz received the 2018 Best Graduate Student Paper Award at the international conference of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers 5th Joint U.S.-European Fluids Engineering Division Summer Meeting in Montreal, Canada.

William was also named a 2018 Graduate Student Scholar and received a $1,500 scholarship. Congrats William!

Associate Professor of nursing Dr. Twila Sterling-Guillory, PhD, FNP-BC, and nursing graduate student, Lauryn Leslie, presented research results at the Louisiana Nursing Practitioners Conference.

The Impact of Active Video Games on Childhood Obesity
Lauryn Leslie, BSN, RN and Twila Sterling-Guillory, PhD, FNP-BC
McNeese State University

Background	Findings
Purpose	Authors	Design/ Level of Evidence
Childhood obesity is a pandemic that influences morbidity and mortality in both child- and adulthood. Guidelines recommend limiting screen time to 2 hours per day. Active video games reduce sedentary time by requiring players to physically move to play the games.	Carmis & Palmieri, 2014	Systematic Review (I)
To determine the impact of active video games (AVGs) on pediatric adiposity in overweight and obese children with age range of 8 to 14 years.	Lambert et al., 2013	Systematic Review (I)
Design	Leblanc et al., 2013	Systematic Review (I)
Review of Literature	Lu et al., 2013	Systematic Review (I)
Methods	Maddison et al., 2011	RCT/ II
Extensive search strategy from 16 databases yielded 4,695 studies. Inclusion criteria: peer-reviewed, English language, published from 2011-2018, BMI/waist circumference evaluated, children 8-14 years with BMI 85th percentile or higher, systematic reviews, randomized controlled trials (RCTs), quasi-experimental studies with comparison groups, pilot studies, sample size of 10 or more. Exclusion criteria: samples with disabled, ill children, or expenditure studies. Seven studies met criteria.	Thi et al., 2014	RCT/ II
Conclusions	Ding & Gao, 2014	Systematic Review (I)
Although all systematic reviews support AVG use as an intervention for childhood obesity, this study is not substantiated with a large amount of statistically significant findings due to the limited studies included on the topic. The RCTs results are promising. The foundation to use AVGs as an intervention for adiposity reduction is weak at best. In order for the recommendation to be strong, more studies need to be performed to support the effectiveness of AVG use in overweight and obese children.

Sample & AVG Type	Findings
Exclusion RCTs (n=10), sample: 7-14 years, varied BMI, AVG type: not specified	RCTs (n=10) with varied BMI, AVG type: not specified
Various study designs (n=10), sample: age 8-15 years, varied BMI, AVG type: not specified	Studies with varied BMI, AVG type: not specified
Various study designs (n=5), sample: 0-17 years, varied BMI, AVG type: not specified	RCTs with varied BMI, AVG type: not specified
Various study designs, sample: age <10 years, varied BMI (n=14), AVG type: not specified	Studies with varied BMI, AVG type: not specified
Overweight and obese, age 10-14 years, in New Zealand (n=12), AVG type: Playstation EyeToy Games, Kinect, Sports, and Dance Factory	Reductions in BMI (p<0.001), waist circumference (p<0.001)
Overweight and obese, age 8-12 years, in United States (n=75), AVG type: Xbox Kinect Games, Kinect Adventures, Kinect Sports	Reductions in BMI (p<0.001), waist circumference (p<0.001)
Various study designs, sample: overweight and obese, age 8-15 years (n=12), AVG type: not specified	RCTs with varied BMI, AVG type: not specified

Implications
For practice, the provider may tailor a treatment plan to include AVG use as an adjunct intervention for childhood obesity. For research, there are several implications for further studies, including: designing high levels of research to reduce heterogeneity, duplicating studies with larger sample sizes, investigating AVG use in multiracial obesity clinics, and investigating the impact in adiposity reduction with parental participation in AVGs with obese children.

Implications
Phytotherapy can offer a holistic approach that is simple, safe, and easy to use. It can be used in conjunction with traditional medical treatments for the management of cancer patients. Further research in phytotherapy is needed to support its use as a recommended for constancy of treatments.

COLLEGE OF NURSING HEALTH PROMOTION

Psychology senior Thaddeus Richard was recognized as the national student of the year by Pi Kappa Phi Fraternity.

Richard was the 2018 recipient of the Dr. Phillip M. Summers Student of the Year award, which is presented to one student among the 187 national chapters who demonstrates leadership and commitment to his chapter, university and community.

He is past president of Beta Mu chapter of Pi Kappa Phi fraternity, past president of the Greek Unity Board, past treasurer of the Student Government Association and a Blue and Gold Peerleader. Last spring, he was selected as Mr. McNeese.

Congratulations to Luke LeBouef, who was elected to the 2018-2019 Louisiana Association of Student Nurses Board of Directors! The McNeese Student Nurses Association also received the Most School Spirit award and Highest Increase in Membership award at the Louisiana Association of Student Nurses convention.

NURSING AND PROFESSIONS

Health care delivery must include the recognition of psychiatric-mental health in total health promotion and prevention. APNA's membership brings a richness of expertise in evidence-based models in practice, research, administration, therapy, education and collaboration in multiple environments and I teach about them every day.

Professor of nursing Dr. Tari Dilks was elected president-elect of the American Psychiatric Nurses Association Board of Directors. She is co-coordinator of McNeese's Master of Science in Nursing programs and director of the psychiatric/mental health track for the Intercollegiate Consortium for a Master of Science in Nursing partnership involving McNeese, Nicholls State University, Southeastern Louisiana University and the University of Louisiana at Lafayette.

With a career spanning more than 40 years, she has practiced nursing at every level. Previously serving as president of APNA Louisiana Chapter among other leadership roles, she consistently advocates for awareness of psychiatric-mental health issues. She currently chairs the APNA Practice Council and was the 2017 recipient of the APNA Award for Excellence in Education.

She has also been recognized for her leadership by the American Academy of Nurse Practitioners with the Louisiana Award for Nurse Practitioner Excellence and her induction into the academy as a Fellow.

As a kid, I was never that interested in the trumpet. I actually wanted to be a percussionist. However, when I signed up for band, all of those spots were taken, so I was offered trumpet or trombone. I just picked the smaller one. I'm glad I did!

Music performance major Victor Medina got a jump-start on his career as a professional musician. He was tapped in mid-November to play the lead trumpet for the national touring Broadway production of Dr. Seuss' "How The Grinch Stole Christmas! The Musical."

At McNeese, Victor was principal trumpet with the Wind Symphony and Jazz band, a member of the Pride of McNeese Marching Band and Symphonic Band. He has been a two-time member of the Madison Scout Drum Corp International Band that has marched in the Macy's Thanksgiving Parade.

Originally from Houston, Victor has been playing trumpet since he started band in middle school.

This is not Victor's first experience with a touring company. He previously spent five weeks during the summer of 2016 in Japan performing with the musical, "Blast! The Music of Disney," to sold-out venues in Nagoya, Osaka and Tokyo.

Graduating seniors showcased work at McNeese through their art. The school was invited to enjoy the student work.

COLLEGE OF LIBERAL ARTS

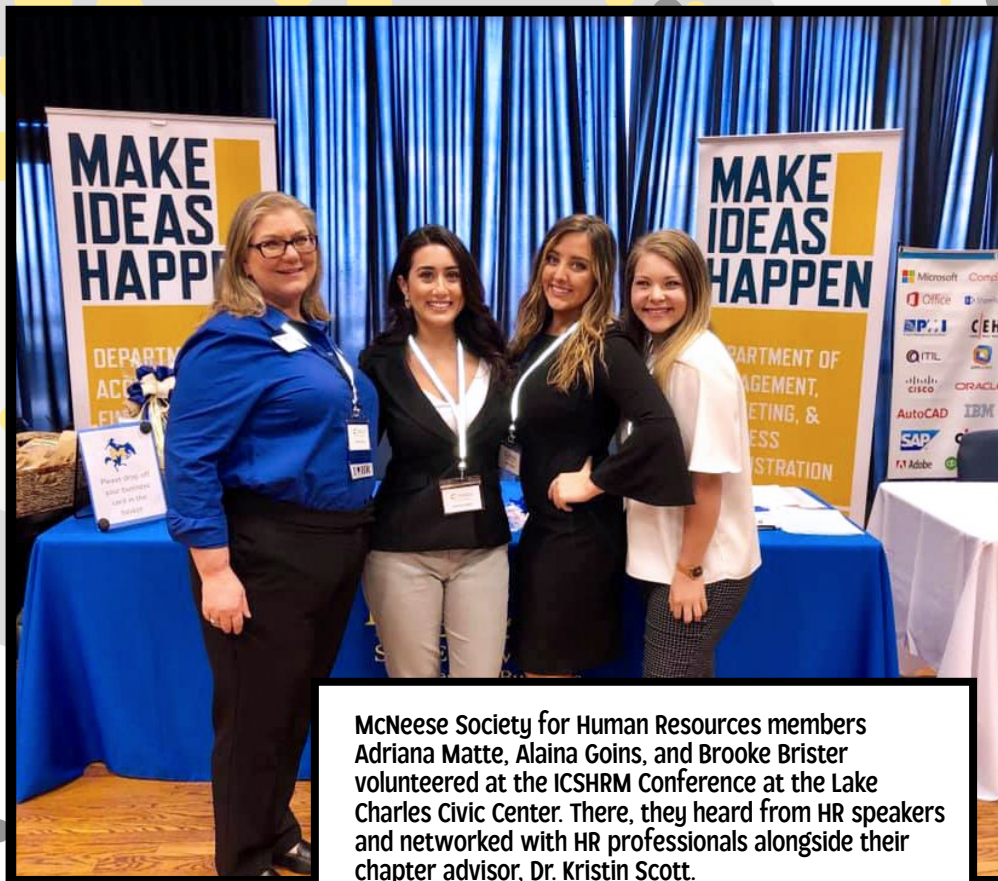

Members of the Student Art Association made their annual bus trip to Houston this Spring semester to visit museums such as the Houston Fine Art Museum and The Menil Collection. Our budding artists were in for a real treat, as the Houston M. F. A. was showing a special Van Gogh exhibit. The exhibit included prints of his most famous pieces, as well as some of his real paintings and memorabilia.

the culmination of their hard work for thesis exhibition. The public can view students portfolios and artwork.

McNeese Society for Human Resources members Adriana Matte, Alaina Goins, and Brooke Brister volunteered at the ICSHRM Conference at the Lake Charles Civic Center. There, they heard from HR speakers and networked with HR professionals alongside their chapter advisor, Dr. Kristin Scott.

Brooke Brister was also awarded an ICSHRM student scholarship. Congratulations, Brooke!

McNeese's student chapter of the Society for Human Resource Management welcomed its 2018-2019 officers.

New officers were Wriha Timalisina, Nepal, president; Jayleen Lantier, Sulphur, president-elect; Brooke Brister, Orange, Texas, vice president of marketing; Caroline Laurent, Lafayette, vice president of communications; Brinson, Slidell, vice president of finance; Meagan Zeph, Loreauville, vice president of professional development; Yolanda Jackson, Iowa, Student Government Association representative.

Congratulations to the student team of Torrey Byrd, Jacob Eccles and Brian Flanagan on winning the McNeese Hult Prize for their innovative idea, Bike It, a youth-driven bike delivery service utilizing information and communications technology within densely populated areas.

Brian also won the Spring 2019 Biz Pitch for his idea, the mobile app GOPHR, a virtual marketplace where consumers can order their favorite items from local retailers and have those products delivered to their doorstep.

COLLEGE OF BUSINESS PROFESSIONS

The McNeese Chapter of Collegiate Entrepreneurship Organization officers Steven Robinson, Torrey Byrd, Shirley Williams, Sharese Carter and Assistant Professor of management Dr. Scott Mooty attended the 2019 Southeast Entrepreneurship Conference in Chattanooga, Tennessee. During the conference students toured Downtown Chattanooga, learned from speakers and networked with developing entrepreneurs.

1000 TREES 1000 DAYS

The 1,000 Trees in 1,000 Days program came to a close March 30 as volunteers from the community and McNeese planted the final 155 trees in Tuten Park. Over three years, about 27 different species were planted, including Green Ash, Sawtooth Oak, Native Sweet Pecan, Persimmon, Magnolia and Flowering Dogwood.

Created as a collaborative effort between McNeese's Harold and Pearl Dripps School of Agricultural Sciences, SASOL and 11 other community organizations, 1,000 Trees in 1,000 Days began as a way to encourage indigenous tree planting and community beautification in Calcasieu Parish. Funds provided by SASOL were used to purchase trees, saplings and equipment and members of the community were invited to take part in the planting effort.

Now, McNeese students will be responsible for providing check-ups on all the trees at various monthly intervals.

DO S IN DO IS

Associate Professor of agricultural sciences Dr. Byungkyun Chung took the lead as the 1,000th tree was planted at 10:30 a.m. This momentous occasion was followed by a wrap-up celebration for the community and volunteers.

ULS DAY

McNeese's Student Life Coalition proudly represented McNeese and lobbied for higher education at ULS Day in the capitol. McNeese Rodeo team members Kaylee Cormier, Chloe Frey, Ashleigh Young, Waylon Bourgeois and Lathan Lyons gave demonstrations on rodeo events. Agricultural sciences programs were represented, too -- McNeese honey was on display and nutrition and dietetics major Nila Pradhananga explained her undergraduate research project designed to develop alternative foods using protein powders.

CHOIR

The choirs of the McNeese State University W.A. and Dorothy Hanna Department of Performing Arts presented free concerts throughout the year for the Lake Area community.

Women's Ensemble, Men's Ensemble, Vocal Ensemble, Concert Chorale and Chamber Singers, under the direction of Dr. Darryl Jones, performed pieces ranging from classical selections by artists such as Franz Schubert and Johann Michael Haydn to music from popular films and other contemporary selections, including the music of John Lennon and Paul McCartney.

THE SUMMONING of EVERYMAN

A MORALITY PLAY

To kick off the 2018-19 theater season, McNeese's W. A. and Dorothy Hanna Department of Performing Arts presented the play "Everyman" at Tritico Theatre. Written by an unknown author in England during the 1400s, "The Summoning of Everyman" (commonly known as "Everyman") is a Medieval morality play accounting of the life of Everyman, whose good and evil deeds are to be tallied by God after his death.

While Everyman tries to convince other characters to accompany him to judgment in the hope of improving his standing, Everyman increasingly finds himself alone, despite all the personified characters that were supposed to be his support and friends.

McNeese theatre program director Charles McNeely directed this classic play. Cast members included P.Z. Stanford, Supratik Regmi, Himshree Neupane, Markell Jolivette, Jennifer Tolbert, Madeline Smith, Sean Hinchee, Ariel Pete, Hannah Jolivette, and Essence Means. Michelle Brunson served as technical, set and light director, Diane Rathbun as costume designer, Romm Silwal as stage manager, and Madilyn Wright as backstage crew.

THEATRE

Songs for a NEW WORLD

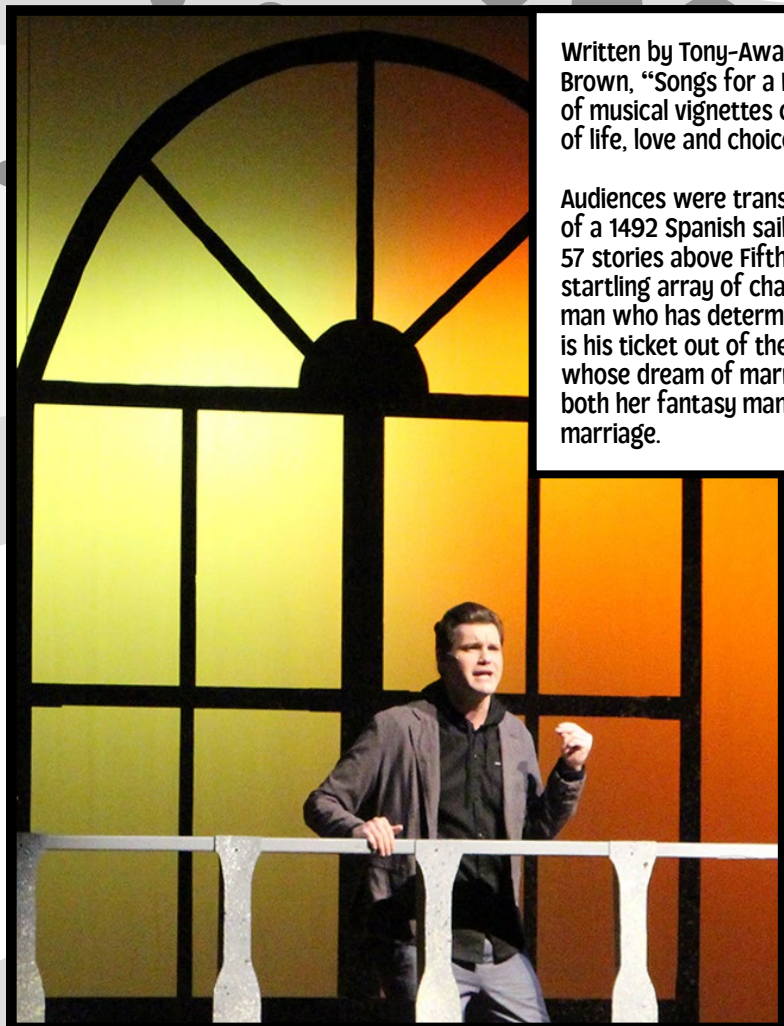

McNeese Theatre performed the musical "Songs for a New World" Jan. 9-13. The play was directed by guest director Renee Luedders, and musically directed by Garry Leonberger. Hasmig Aroian conducted. Michelle Brunson served as technical, light and set director and Luke Conbally served as stage director. Cast members included: Tyler Brumback, Lara Connally, MaryKate Core, Heather Foreman, Amy Phillips and Peyton Stanford. Band members included: Keegan Crawford, Tony James, Brent Lensing, Isaiah Windsor, and Tyler Young.

Written by Tony-Award winner Jason Robert Brown, "Songs for a New World" is a series of musical vignettes connected by themes of life, love and choices.

Audiences were transported from the deck of a 1492 Spanish sailing ship to a ledge 57 stories above Fifth Avenue to meet a startling array of characters: from a young man who has determined that basketball is his ticket out of the ghetto to a woman whose dream of marrying rich nabs her both her fantasy man and a soulless marriage.

The AUTISM | ASPERGER'S Project

"The Autism/Asperger's Project" was a special show dedicated towards bringing attention and awareness of Autism Spectrum Disorders to audiences. Created thanks to the contributions of community members from across Southwest Louisiana, the play is based on contributor's thoughts and insights on the misunderstood world of Autism and Asperger's.

Directed by Charles McNeely, the play's crew included Michelle Brunson as technical, set and light designer, Bridget Delaney, Colette Tanner and Sean Hinchee as assistants to the director, Adrian Zembower as consultant, Brianna Delaney as prop master and Gordon Boone as stage crew.

The show starred Peyton Stanford as "Chris," Aaron Tanner as "Bob," Hannah Jolivet as "Judy," Himshree Neupane as "Patty," Cecile Roque as "Penny" and Supratik Regmi as "Harry."

Colette Tanner, Charles McNeely, Bridget Delaney, Jeff Wainwright, Aaron Tanner, Marcus Tanner, Briana Delaney, Katy Cole, Angela Roques, Cecile Roques, Todd Furman, Adrienne Zembower, Mylinda Elliot, Shari Cooley, Janice Huber, Maggie LeBeouf, Brant Boone, Cathy Guillory Miller, Randy Miller, Allen Granger, Peyton Stanford, Hannah Jolivet, Himshree Neupane, Supratik Regmi, Jennifer Tolbert and Autism Services of SW Louisiana all contributed to the play.

Just as 2018 marked a beginning for many of our heroes, the Fall of 2018 and Spring 2019 graduations served for many others as the start of an entirely new adventure. Equipped with new knowledge, super friends and invaluable life lessons, our graduating students set out to change the world . . .

A large-scale graduation ceremony is taking place in a stadium. The graduates, wearing blue caps and gowns, are seated in the foreground. The background is filled with a large crowd of spectators. A large, stylized, comic book-style text overlay reads "GRADUATION!" in bold, white letters with a black outline, set against a yellow and blue starburst background. The text is slanted upwards from left to right. The stadium seating is visible in the background, and the overall atmosphere is celebratory.

The McNeese Cowgirl soccer team had an overall outstanding year, as a defeat to Lamar University 1-0 at Cowgirl Field set a new school record of 13 wins in a single season. Overall, the Cowgirls ended the regular season 13-6-1.

With the win, the team cemented their spot as the No. 4 seed in the Southland Conference Tournament, making the third straight and 14th overall appearance in the postseason tournament. However, their record-breaking season came to an end when the Cowgirls lost 3-1 to Abilene Christian.

Junior midfielder Rachel Palet was named to the third team 2018 United Soccer Coaches NCAA Division I Women's Scholar All-South Region Team, as well as to the Southland All-Conference and All-Academic teams. Rachel helped the team to an end of the season RPI ranking of 127, the highest in McNeese soccer history. 2018 marked the second straight season the Cowgirls landed a player on the United Soccer Coaches Scholar All-South Region Team.

A regular season finale win over Northwestern State clinched a spot for McNeese volleyball in the 2018 Southland Conference Tournament, marking the Cowgirls' fourth straight appearance at the conference under fifth-year head coach Ashleigh Fitzgerald, and McNeese's 32nd appearance overall.

Though No. 6 McNeese fought hard against No. 3 seed Sam Houston State, McNeese volleyball couldn't quite overcome the Bearkats, and ended the game with a 3-1 loss, finishing their season with a 10-22 record.

McNeese junior outside hitter Keegan Nelms was a particular standout this season. She was named to the 2018 Southland Conference Volleyball All-Academic team, as well as the Louisiana Sports Writers Association All-Louisiana Team. Nelms earned all-conference second team honors after leading the Cowgirls with 314 kills, averaging 2.75 kills per set, which ranked her ninth in the SLC. She ended her season second on the team with 21 service aces and 254 digs.

CROSS COUNTRY

McNeese senior Cowgirl runner Alex Eykelbosch started the 2018-19 Cross Country season in winning fashion as she claimed the title in the women's portion of the McNeese Cross Country Season Opener on August 31, where the team finished second overall. She was among three cross-country student-athletes named to the 2018 Southland Conference All-Academic team. Earning second team honors, Eykelbosch posted a perfect 4.00 grade point average while majoring in health and human performance. She finished 13th at the conference championships with a time of 23:57.9 in the 6,000-meter race.

Senior Gladys Jerotich garnered first-team honors with an automatic selection after her fourth-place finish at the conference championships in October to lead the Cowgirls to a fourth-place team finish in the competition. Jerotich ran well this season, also finishing sixth at the McNeese Opener and second at the Lake Charles Toyota McNeese Cowboy Stampede. The Eldoret, Kenya native is a general studies major with a concentration in medical laboratory science and carries a 3.20 grade point average.

On the men's side, McNeese senior Niall Holt earned second-team honors in his final season with the Cowboys. Holt, like Eykelbosch, posted a 4.00 grade point average while majoring in health and human performance. In October Holt posted a 39th place finish at the conference championships to help McNeese to a sixth-place team finish.

This is the seventh straight year the Cowgirls have been recognized and 10th time in the last 12 seasons, while the Cowboys have garnered the award three times.

It was also an excellent season for sophomore Daniel Saina, who placed 10th in the 4k race in the McNeese Season Opener, helping the Cowboys take 3rd place overall. At the second meet of the season at the LSU Cross Country Invitational, Saina took third overall in the men's race, and at the Enos Derbonne Sports Complex in Lake Charles, Saina captured first place in the men's 4-mile competition, crossing the finish line with a time of 21:07.7, 12 seconds faster than second-place finisher. Saina also nabbed 12th place at the conference championships.

It was a season of highs and lows for the McNeese Cowboys. Despite a tough offensive in the final game against the Lamar University Cardinals, the game finished a close 21-17, breaking the Cowboy's 11-game home winning streak. The Cowboys finished the season 6-5, 5-4 in Southland play to finish in a four-way tie for fourth place.

Linebacker B.J. Blunt, offensive lineman Grant Burguillos, defensive end Chris Livings, defensive back Colby Burton and punter Alex Kjellsten were all named to the 2018 LSWA All-Louisiana football team. Kjellsten and field goal kicker Gunnar Raborn were also named to the 2018 Southland Conference All-Academic team.

Blunt and Kjellsten had an especially remarkable season. Blunt earned spots on five All-America teams – Associated Press (1st team), Walter Camp (1st team), AFCA (1st team), STATS (1st team) and Hero Sports (2nd team). He became just the fourth player in school history to receive first team honors from those four outlets.

Kjellsten received his first-ever All-America award after a record-breaking senior season for the Cowboys. He ranked seventh in the nation with a 43.81 yards per punt average, setting a new single-season school record, breaking the previous mark set in the 1979 season.

Both were then later contacted by NFL teams following the 2019 NFL draft, held April 25-27 in Nashville, Tennessee. Blunt signed as an undrafted free agent with the Washington Redskins, and Kjellsten was invited to the Chicago Bears rookie mini-camp. Running back David Hamm was also invited to the Oakland Raiders rookie mini-camp, while former McNeese All-American kick returner and wide receiver Diontae Spencer (class of 2013) signed a deal with the NFL's Pittsburgh Steelers.

Men's golf had an extraordinary season this year under interim head coach Mike Fluty. The Cowboys finished 10th place at the truncated All-American Intercollegiate and captured the team championship at the Louisiana Classics. The Cowboys' 282 in round three was the fourth-lowest round in tournament history. The Cowboys went on to take 6th at the LC Toyota Invitational and 6th overall at the Southland Conference Championships. Freshman Jack Hearn picked up third team honors at the conference, while Sutton Farmer was named to the honorable mention squad.

In particular, senior Blake Elliot had a stunning season. Elliot won the Hawaiian Princeville collegiate and placed second in the Quail Valley collegiate, and finished in a fourth place tie in the Jacksonville, Florida tournament at TPC Sawgrass, shooting a 2-under 208 while playing against some of the nation's best. Weather cancelled the final round of the All-American Intercollegiate, but Elliot still pulled off a fourth place win. Elliot also captured an individual title at the Louisiana Classics, making this the first-ever joint team and individual win for the program. Elliot would go on to tie for 4th place at the LC Toyota Invitational, as well as a second place win at SLC. Thanks to his extraordinary season, he climbed up the rankings ladder of the nation's top collegiate golfers from 47th place to finish the season at 21st, and was selected to participate at the 2019 NCAA Men's Golf Austin Regional.

While he missed the NCAA Championships by just one stroke, Elliot will go down as one of the most successful Cowboy golfers in school history. Among his many accolades, 2019 saw Elliot selected to the All-Louisiana First Team and named the Southland Conference February Golfer of the Month, SLC Player of the Year and the 2019 Louisiana Men's Golfer of the Year.

Women's Golf saw a number of individual and team successes this season. Junior golfer Riley Issac posted a career high at the UT-Rio Grande Valley Invitational with a third place finish, while the team racked up two consecutive top ten wins with a seventh place win at UT-Rio Grande Valley and a fifth place win in the 13-team Bama Beach Bash.

After shooting career lows the first day of the Southland Conference Women's Golf Championship, both freshman Cameron Newhouse and sophomore Isabel Huntsman bested their personal records and hit new career low rounds and career low tournament totals during the SLC's final round. As a team, the Cowgirls finished in sixth place with a 920 after posting their best round of the tournament with a 298.

McNeese junior Riley Isaac was also named to the All-Southland Conference Women's Golf team.

The fall tennis season saw the Cowgirls take second place at the George E. Fourmaux Fed Cup Invitational, while Charoline Erlandsson and Marija Mastilovic were crowned champion of the Women's Doubles Flight D bracket at the Seminole All-Conference Showdown in Tallahassee, Florida.

Spring was a season of sweeps for the McNeese tennis under new coach Giorgia Pozzan. The Cowgirls made a 7-0 victory over Prairie View A&M, followed by another 7-0 at Alcorn State and 7-0 over Incarnate Word.

Victories over Southeastern, Nicholls, New Orleans, Stephen F. Austin, Sam Houston and Lamar clinched a spot for McNeese in the Southland Conference Tournament. However, The McNeese women's tennis team came up short to Central Arkansas, 4-3, in its first round tournament match.

Freshmen netter Dalia Ahmed was named the Southland Conference women's tennis player of the week after finishing 2-0 in both singles and doubles competition. Senior tennis player Charoline Erlandsson was named to the 2019 Southland Conference All-Academic Women's Tennis Team, as well as to the LSWA All-Louisiana College Women's Tennis First Team.

There were a number of highs this year for Men's Basketball. In the final game before starting Southland Conference play, junior guard Roydell Brown and junior forward Sha'Markus Kennedy scored a combined 54 points and pulled in 29 rebounds to help lead McNeese to a 91-73 win over Campbellsville-Harrodsburg. During the game, senior guard James Harvey became the 30th player in school history to top the 1,000 career points scored milestone.

The Cowboys opened up the Southland Conference with an 88-77 win over Incarnate Word, where Brown and Kennedy each recorded their second straight 20-point outing and McNeese shot a remarkable 66.7 percent from the field, just 2.5 points short of the school record of 69.2 percent set against Arkansas State in 1984. Senior guard Jarren Greenwood also reached the 1,000 career point milestone during the game.

The Cowboys also rang in the grand opening of the new Health & Human Performance complex in an 86-75 Southland Conference win over Nicholls in front of 2,778 fans, nearly 800 of them McNeese students. Brown scored a career-high 25 points and pulled down 12 rebounds.

Despite wins against Houston Baptist and the Central Arkansas Bears, a 83-58 loss to Lamar ended the season, bringing the Cowboys' season at 9-22 overall and 5-13 in conference play.

Brown, McNeese's leading scorer and rebounder despite missing the last 8 ½ games due to an injury, was named to the 2018-19 NABC Division I All-District 23 Second Team, and earned All-SLC honorable mention honors.

This year, former McNeese Cowboy basketball standout Diego Kapelan (2008-11) was also selected by the Fraser Valley Bandits in the third round of the inaugural Canadian Elite Basketball League (CEBL) Entry Draft. Kapelan, a native of Vancouver, British Columbia, helped the Cowboys to the 2011 Southland Conference regular season title and two national postseason tournament appearances – the NIT in 2011 and the CollegeInsider.com Tournament in 2012.

McNeese women's basketball put up a hard fight this season, but unfortunately ended their regular season with a 81-68 loss to the Lamar Cardinals. Despite a strong initial standing at the Southland Conference with three wins in a row against Nicholls, Southeastern Louisiana and Houston Baptist, the team concluded the season with 7-22 overall and 5-13 in league play.

McNeese freshman guard Callie Maddox was named as an honorable mention selection to the 2019 All-Southland Conference women's basketball team. She ended her rookie season with 13.4 ppg. along with 4.1 rpg. She was second on the team with a 32.2 three-point field goal percent, second with a 76.8 free throw percent and average one steal per game.

At the 2019 Southland Conference Outdoor Track and Field Championships, Senior Gladys Jerotich picked up a silver medal in the 10,000-meters after posting a personal best time of 37:57.87. Senior Tyler Smith took a silver and two bronze, with a second place showing in the 100-meters, third in the 200-meters, and third as a member of the 4x100-meter relay team. As a team, the Cowgirls finished the conference fifth with 55 points. The Cowboys finished eighth with 46 points.

Six McNeese track and field student-athletes were named to the 2019 Southland Conference Men's and Women's Track and Field All-Academic Teams, Five Cowgirls – Alanna Arvie, Aleyah Donald, Alex Eykelbosch, Gladys Jerotich and Grace McKenzie, while one Cowboy was selected to the squad – Nemanja Koviljac. McNeese's six selections ranked tied as the fourth-highest amount on the list while topping all Southland Conference Louisiana schools.

TRACK & FIELD

Two gold medals, a school record and 12 personal records highlighted McNeese's performance at the 2019 Southland Conference Indoor Track and Field Championships, with Cowgirl distance runner Alex Eykelbosch and thrower Alanna Arvie bringing home gold in the 5,000-meters and weight throw respectively. Aleayah Donald (60-meters) and Alex Eykelbosch (3,000m) each took home a silver medal in their events while Grace McKenzie won a bronze medal in the high jump with a mark of 5-7.75.

Hurdler and jumper Darion Dunn also had a big moment for the Cowboys. He set a new school record in the 60-meter hurdles with a time of 7.95, breaking the record of 7.98 that was held by Reggie Brown and set in 2003. On the men's side, sprinter Tyler Smith set a new school record in the 200-meters with a bronze medal-winning time of 21.03. He, along with the first and second place finishers, ran faster than the previous SLC meet record.

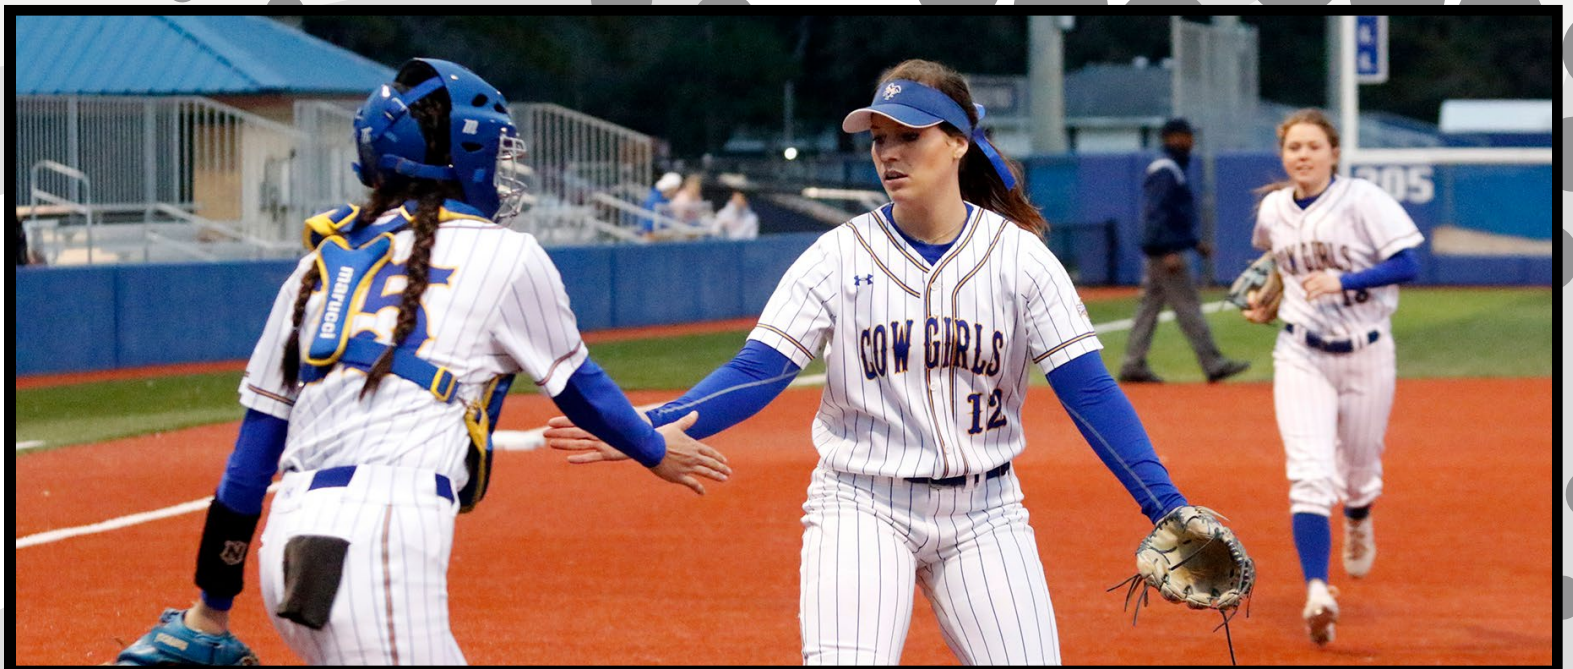

A day after breaking a 16-year old school record in the 60-meter hurdles, Darion Dunn broke his own record while winning a bronze medal with a time of 7.92. A third Cowboys' school record was broken on the day when the 4x400 relay team comprised of Blake Comeaux, Terrill Banks, Ethan Rapp and Kobe Nevills clocked a time of 3:15.43 to finish fourth and break the previous record by .51 seconds, a mark that was set by these same four runners at last year's conference meet. The women finished the conference in 5th place, while the men came in at 10th.

SOFTBALL

McNeese softball made its first ever appearance at the National Invitational Softball Championship Regional Tournament a memorable one. After a tournament opening 7-3 win over Middle Tennessee, the Cowgirls fell 5-3 to the Texas-Arlington for their first loss in the double elimination tournament. The Cowgirls defeated Stephen F. Austin 3-1 to advance to the championship game. There, the Cowgirls fought hard, but suffered a close 4-3 loss in 10 innings to Texas-Arlington, ending the season a 33-32 record.

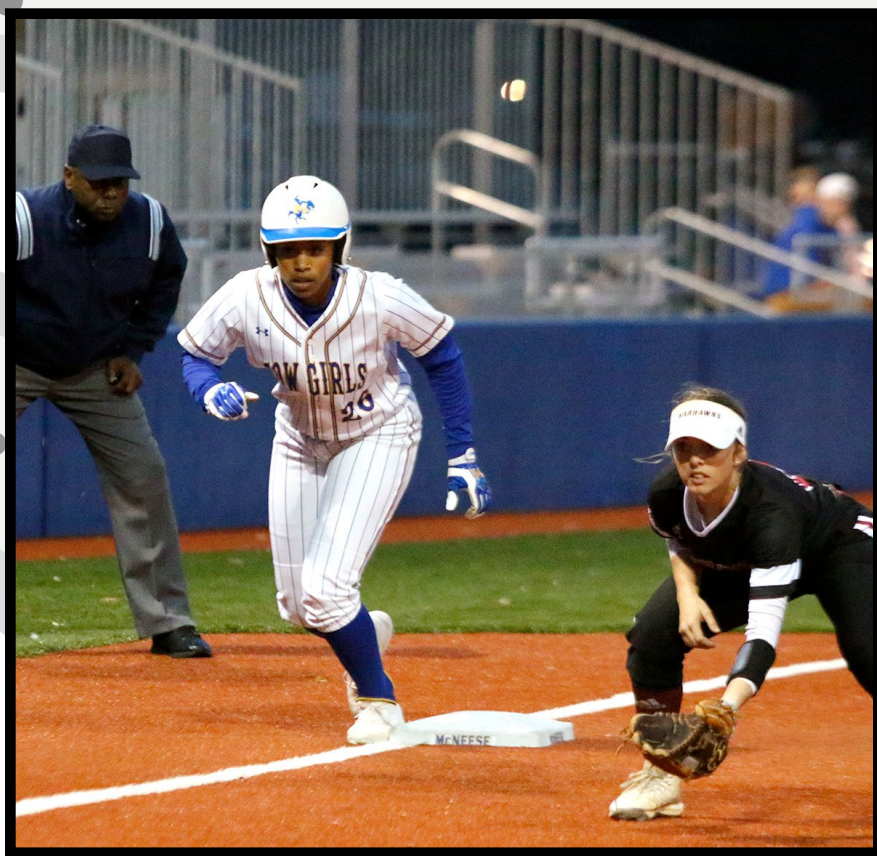

The Cowgirls also finished third place at the Southland Conference Tournament. Senior outfielder Justyce McClain was named to the Southland Conference All-Tournament team and the 2019 NFCA Division I Softball All-Region team. She, as well as junior infielder Cori McCrary and sophomore outfielder Toni Perrin, were named to the all-tournament team.

BASEBALL

After an outstanding season, 2019 saw the McNeese Cowboys baseball team win their first Southland Conference Tournament Championship since 2003 after defeating the Central Arkansas Bears 4-2 in Sugar Land. McNeese (35-24) rolled through the tournament field, winning four straight games without a defeat while holding its opponents to a total of eight runs.

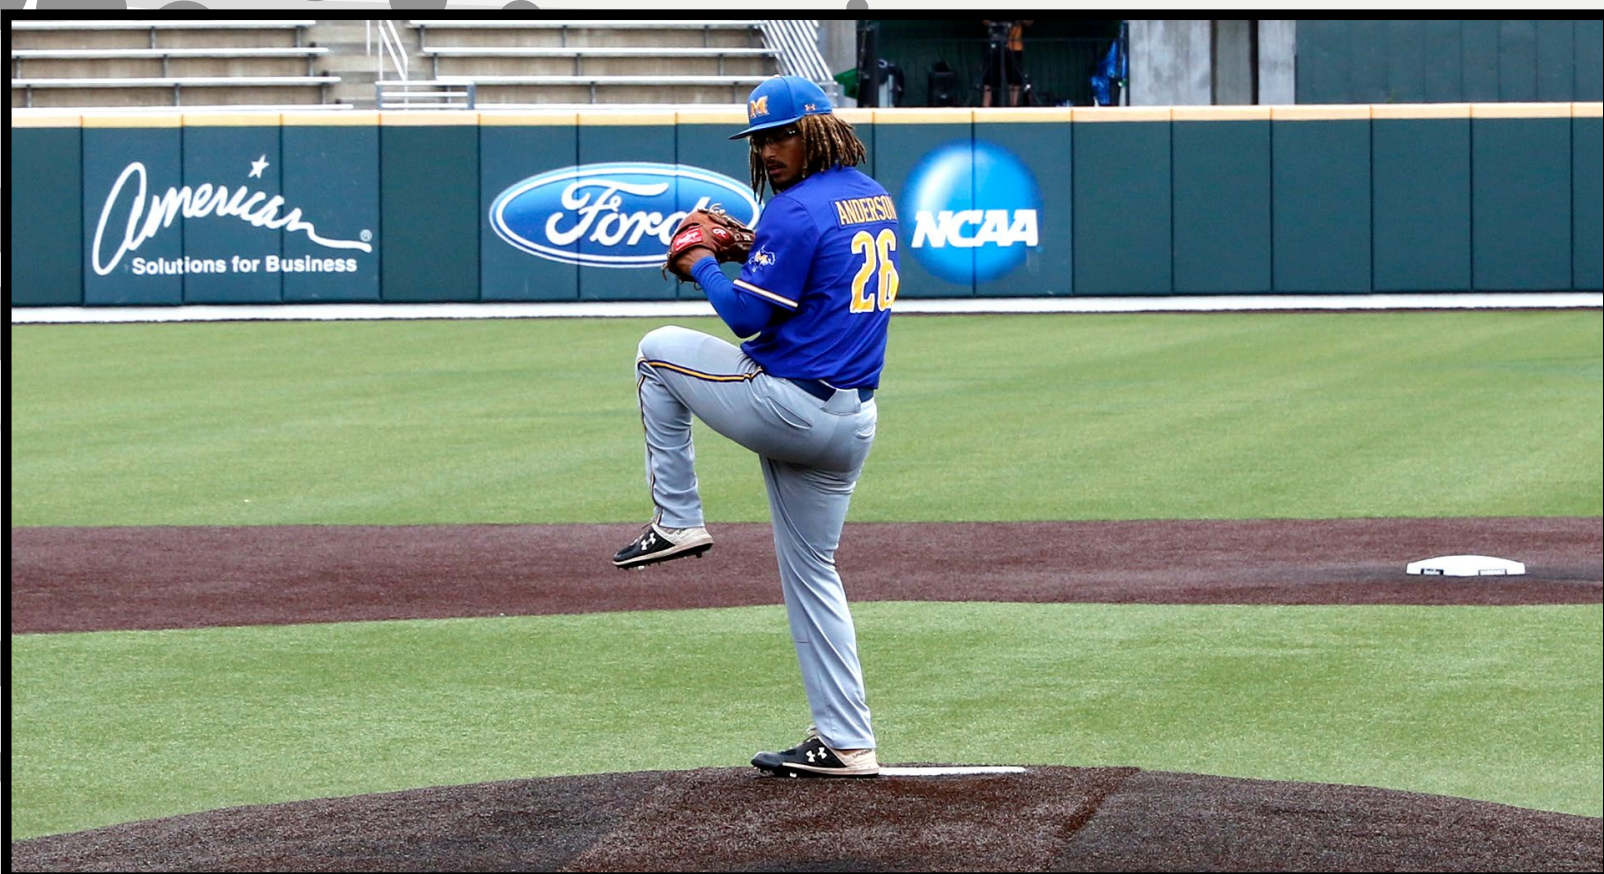

But a 6-5 loss to No. 2 seeded Sycamores brought McNeese's magical season to an end. The Cowboys dropped a 9-8, 13-inning dogfight to Ohio State in the elimination game of the 2019 NCAA Baseball Nashville Regional at Vanderbilt's Hawkins Field.

Outfielders Payton Harden and Shane Selman were named to the Nashville Regional All-Tournament Team. Selman was also one of four McNeese Cowboys selected on the final day of the 2019 MLB Draft, along with infielder Carson Maxwell, right-handed pitcher Cayne Ueckert, and right-handed pitcher Bryan King.

It's the second most players McNeese has ever had drafted in a single draft, behind the 1994 and 1995 draft class which each had five. It also makes it only the second time that McNeese has had back-to-back seasons with three or more players drafted.

King also earned the Southland Conference's F.L. McDonald Postgraduate Scholarship Award and now sits in the top 10 in four different categories of the McNeese record book. He was also named a Google Chrome Academic All-American and a SLC All-Academic member.

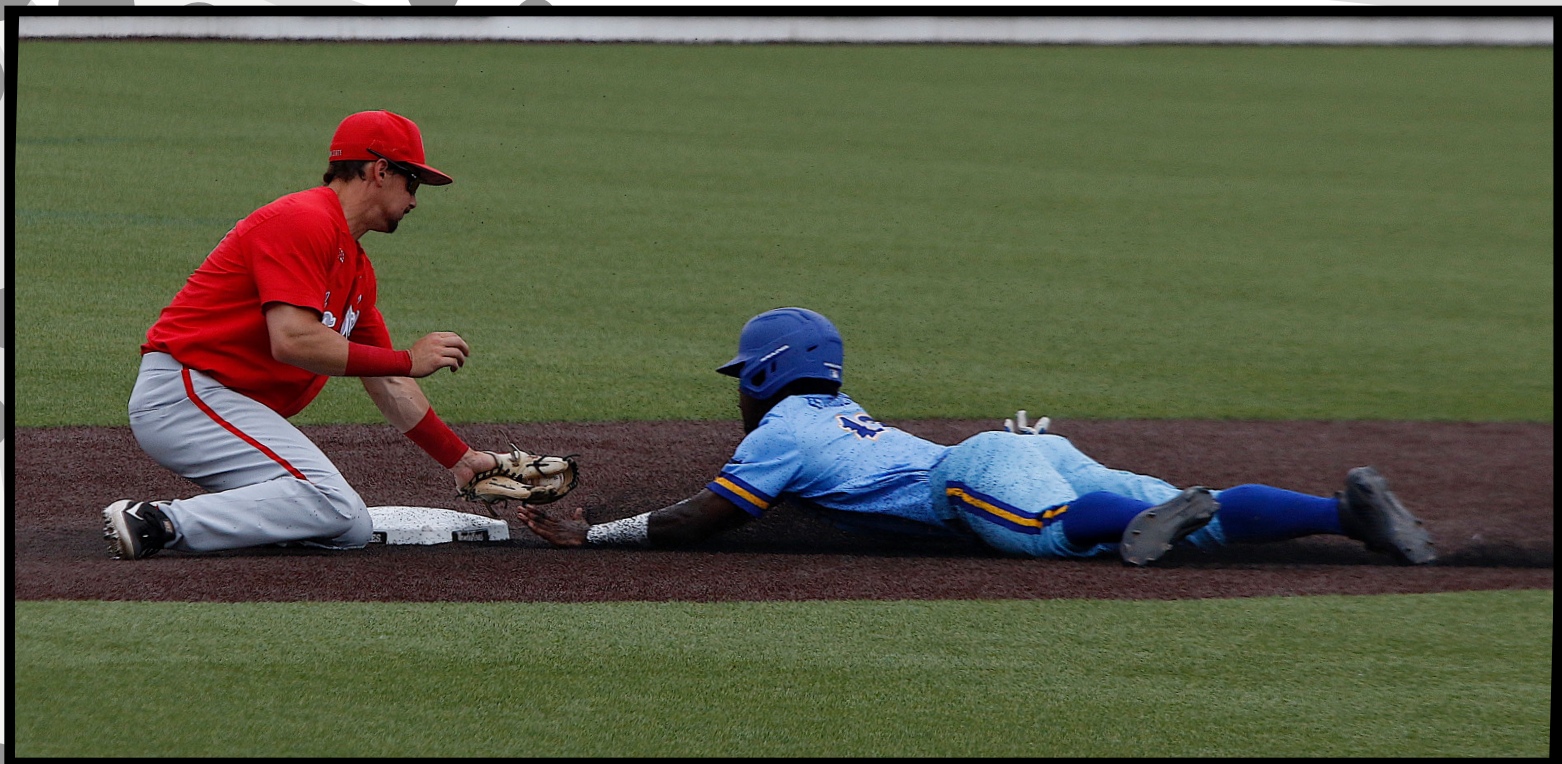

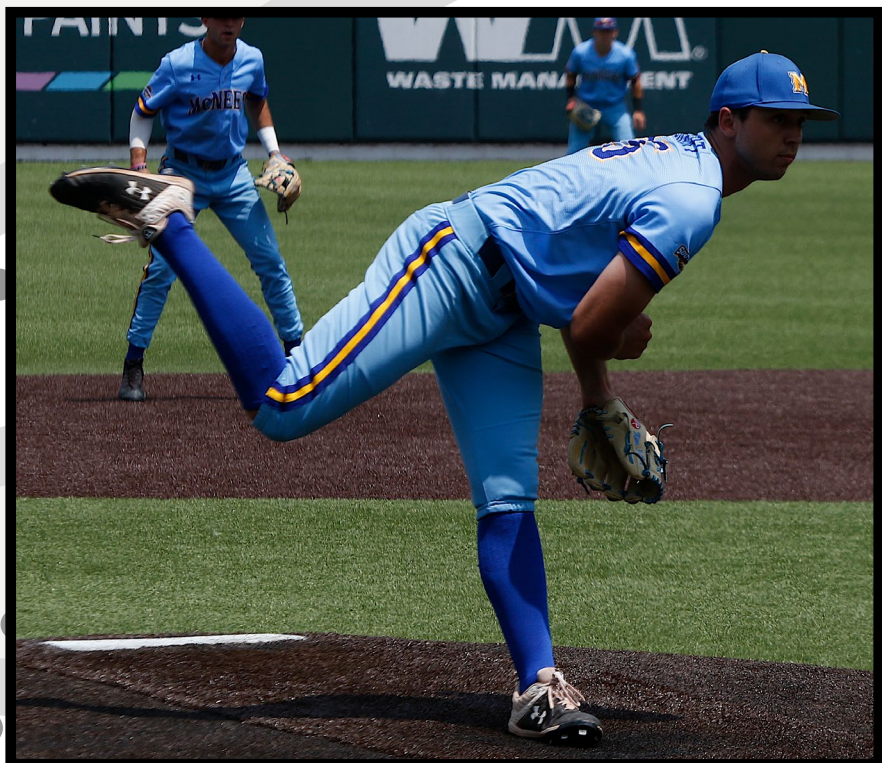

McNeese junior second baseman Nate Fisbeck was also named to the 2019 ABCA/Rawlings NCAA Division I Central All-Region First Team.

RODEO

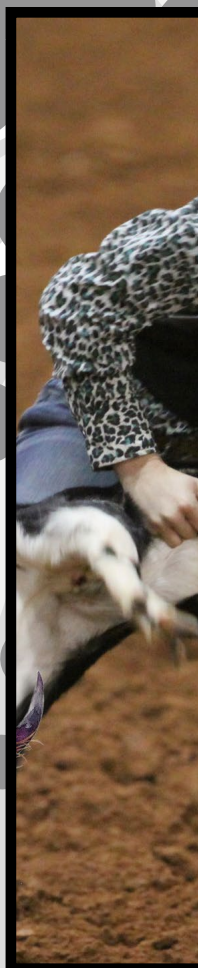

It was a great year for McNeese rodeo! The Cowgirls lassoed an unprecedented victory at the 70th College National Finals Rodeo in Casper, Wyoming, capturing three national individual championships, one team championship and one reserve championship.

Mia Manzanares was a particular standout. With wins for the national title in both breakaway roping and goat tying, she seized the spot of national women's all-around champion and helped the team overcome Texas Tech, 480-475, for the women's national championship.

The Cowboys weren't far behind as Zach Jongbloed won the title of reserve champion in tie down roping, while Gabe Soileau placed fifth in steer wrestling. Colton Onyett placed 10th in bareback riding, bringing the team to finish fifth in the nation with a score of 520.

CHEER

The cheerleaders had a busy season getting the crowd up and on their feet through their enthusiasm, positive attitudes and, of course, some amazing displays of aerodynamics and acrobatics!

Alongside of performances at home games in Cowboy Stadium and in the all-new Health and Human Performance complex, the 2018-19 season also took the cheerleaders to Provo, Utah, to cheer on the Cowboys against the Brigham Young Cougars.

COWGIRL KICKERS

The 21 2018-19 Cowboy Kickers spent the year dazzling audiences with their athleticism, mastery of dance and showmanship and encouraging McNeese teams to victory with the cheer, "Go Pokes!"

Every year, the Kickers meet in July and August to begin preparing for their rigorous schedule. With 8 hours of practice every week, the Kickers also hold additional practices with The Pride of McNeese Marching Band on home game weeks. The team prides themselves in being involved in McNeese Football, Cowboy and Cowgirl Basketball, McNeese Baseball, and McNeese Softball, where dance plays a vital roll in fan involvement.

The Kickers are also involved as ambassadors of McNeese during academic recruiting, current student involvement, alumni celebrations and countless community events.

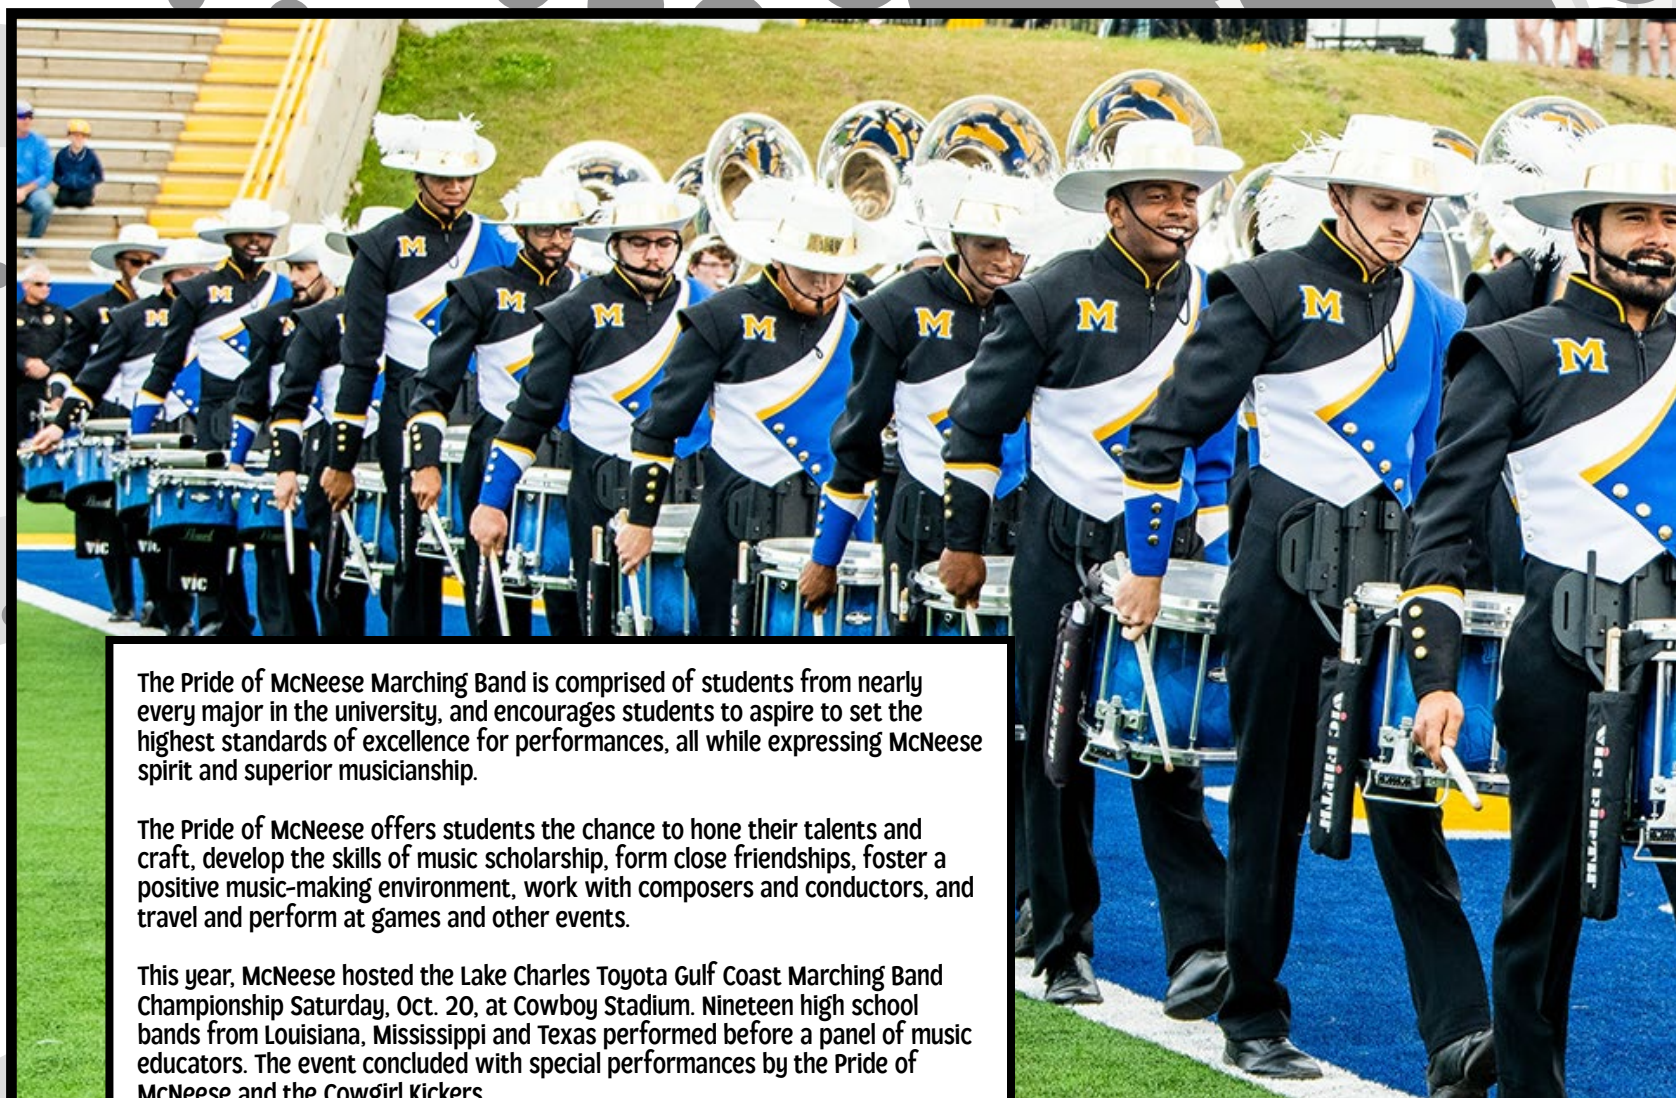

The Kickers also host annual fundraisers, Cowgirl Kicker Summer Dance Camp, Cowgirl Kicker Spring Dance Clinic, Kicker Trivia Night and Kicker Fishing Derby to raise funds for team operations.

This year, Kicker Leslie Smith was accepted into the Disney College Program, bringing McNeese's magic to the Magic Kingdom! Congrats Leslie!

The Pride of McNeese Marching Band is comprised of students from nearly every major in the university, and encourages students to aspire to set the highest standards of excellence for performances, all while expressing McNeese spirit and superior musicianship.

The Pride of McNeese offers students the chance to hone their talents and craft, develop the skills of music scholarship, form close friendships, foster a positive music-making environment, work with composers and conductors, and travel and perform at games and other events.

This year, McNeese hosted the Lake Charles Toyota Gulf Coast Marching Band Championship Saturday, Oct. 20, at Cowboy Stadium. Nineteen high school bands from Louisiana, Mississippi and Texas performed before a panel of music educators. The event concluded with special performances by the Pride of McNeese and the Cowgirl Kickers.
